ACADEMIC PARTNER
PRE-APPROVAL GUIDE

TABLE OF CONTENTS

WHAT IS THE APPROVED ACADEMIC LEARNING PARTNER?

Our Academic Partners (AP) program gives formal recognition to leading academic providers for the quality learning and support that they offer to our students. It is the platform where we can develop a mutually beneficial relationship, increasing the global availability of effective and innovative course delivery and first-class student support.

Our Academic Partners (AP) demonstrate that they meet our performance targets, representing global best practice in the provision of course learning and support.

There are three levels of approval:

- Silver Academic Partner
  Available to academic partner new to our platform and Educational Partners or will start to demonstrate our performance targets for Gold approval.

- Gold Academic Partner
  Available to academic partner providing programs for any of our Educational Partners Qualification. To be eligible for approval at this level, learning providers must meet a range of performance targets covering the institution's overall operation.

- Platinum Academic Partner
  Only available to academic partner, which teach the FDA Qualification as part of their course delivery. In addition to the criteria, which must be satisfied for gold approval, providers must meet further best practice statements and meet specific mutually agreed targets.

Approval processes usually involve rigorous assessment of the academic partner's qualifications, facilities, and other resources to ensure they meet specific standards. This approval offers a level of assurance to students and professionals that the education they are receiving will be recognized and valued in their field.
